William (Bill) Slothower to Trod Political Comeback Trail

Former Mayor Asks Economy In Government

To Oppose Hofmann In Primary Election

A 65-year-old Dixon businessman who served as mayor from 1935 to 1947 will start up a political comeback trail today when he files his petition to run for a third term.

"I don't believe in spending money when it isn't necessary," William (Bill) Slothower told The Telegraph in connection with his candidacy.

"And I don't believe in spending money the city doesn't have."

In Business Since 1903

Slothower, who has been in business here since 1903 and who now operates a hardware store at 113 Hennepin avenue, went on to say:

"If I am elected the people can expect the same kind of administration they had in my previous 12 years as mayor."

In explaining his financial philosophy, Slothower commented:

"I believe in operating a city as economically as possible without injury to property or to the physical well-being of the people."

The former mayor served as a city commissioner from 1919 to 1927, as head, during the eight-year period, of three departments, health and safety, streets and finance.

City Should Be Careful

"A city should be operated the same way as a business," the former mayor said. "When a man wants to stay in business, he has to be careful. A city should be governed just as carefully."

"I believe in progress but I'm conservative. I believe property-owners should not be taxed any more than necessary. Low tax rates encourage people to own their own homes, they make better citizens.

"Tax rates also should be low enough to bring new factories into town. The first thing a factory will ask is:

" 'What are the tax rates?' "

He has to commute 150 miles daily from Joliet to Waukegan because he can't find housing in this area.

Taft Hits Truman's Committing American Troops

TRIES THE COMEBACK TRAIL — William (Bill) Slothower, well known Dixon businessman and a former mayor, tossed his hat in the ring for mayor again today when he announced his candidacy. Mr. Slothower's announcement follows by one day, Mayor J. Fred Hofmann's announcement that he will seek reelection to the office.

Senator Hits President for Invoking War

Truman Exceeded Authority, Is Charge

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared in the senate today that President Truman has no power to commit American troops to a European defense force without approval first from congress.

In his first foreign policy speech of the 82nd congress, Taft said he is willing to commit "some limited number of American divisions" to North Atlantic defenses. But he said the Europeans must take the lead in forming such a force.

Hits 'Forced Assistance'

"I do not think we should force our assistance on nations which do not wish to arm themselves," the Ohio senator declared. "I do not think we should insist or even urge that Europeans form a great international army unless they request us to help them with that project."

"I do not think we should assume the leadership in the formation of a great international army by the appointment of an American commander-in-chief."

President Truman has already named Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for that place and the Truman administration had laid plans to send additional American troops to Europe to serve in the combined defense force.

At a news conference only yesterday, President Truman said there was no question but that he had authority to send additional troops to Europe.

It was this authority which Taft questioned, contending it was a matter on which congress must pass.

Taft said that before the North

Retail Food Prices Near Record High

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Retail food prices nosed upward during the first half of December almost to the all-time peak of July 1948.

This was reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics today as farm belt congressmen protested in advance against an anticipated request from President Truman to let him put his own controls on farm prices.

Democrats and Republicans alike predicted that congress wouldn't go along with any proposal which might result in lower prices for farmers. They said lower prices would mean smaller production at a time when the nation needs more food.

Near All-Time High

The BLS reported a rise of 1.2 per cent in retail food prices between Nov. 28 and Dec. 15. The price index was estimated at 216.3 per cent of the 1935-39 average. That was within 0.2 per cent of the all-time record of 216.8.

The new index was 3.2 per cent above the previous month and 5.7 per cent higher than on June 15, before the Korean war started. It was up 9.6 per cent from a year ago.

Prices of 50 foods were studied in eight cities: Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Columbus, New York, Richmond, San Francisco and Washington. Almost all classes of retail food items were found to have increased in price.

HST May Act

A controversy over prospective controls on food prices shaped up in the wake of Mr. Truman's news conference statement yesterday that he may ask congress to change the law which gives him price-wage control powers.

He said across-the-board wage and price controls would be put into effect as soon as they were needed and it was physically possible to do so. Then he went on to say the law would have to be

HEROIC GI SAVES BABY—S/Sgt. Manuel Caldera, 21, of Lemoore, Calif., gets a pat on the head and big smile from Mrs. Theresa Archer, 22, of Westville, N. All three were passengers.

Order Will Be As 'Stop-Gap' Measure, Hint

All Business Firms Would Be Included

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—The government was reported today to be drafting an order that all business firms give a 30-day notice before raising prices.

This would have the effect of a one-month price "freeze" although it would not apply to all farm prices, because of certain provisions of law.

Retail food prices were shown by the Bureau of Labor Statistics today to have risen 1.2 per cent between Nov. 28 and Dec. 15—almost to the record high reached in July of 1948.

Stop-Gap Measure

There was no immediate confirmation of the plan to issue a 30-day advance notice order. However, reports from people close to and his staff said the decision has Price Director Michael V. Disalle been made to issue such an order very soon.

The action was described as a stop-gap measure—holding the line temporarily while the price stabilization office builds a staff to enforce a system of more specific ceiling prices, and while the wage stabilization board comes to some decision on standards for controlling wages.

Disalle Can Act

The Defense Production Act of 1950 contains provisions which would prevent freezing of most farm prices. However, there are certain things that Disalle can do about food prices, and some of them are included in the 30-day notice order now reported pending.

For example, the law permits control of the margins of wholesale and retail distributors of food, and, to a certain extent, the prices of food processors.

Today's report on gains in food prices came as farm belt congressmen protested in advance against an anticipataed request from President Truman to let him put his own controls on farm prices.

Lee County To Be Haven for Chicagoans If A-Bomb Strikes

If A-bombs hits Chicago, August Wimpleberg, co-director of Dixon's civil defense, told Lee county's board of supervisors today, every home in Dixon might have to feed and clothe two persons until they could return home.

Wimpleberg addressed the board in connection with the Illinois civil defense program. He gave an outline of the plan the board could adopt to play a part in a co-ordinated civil defense program.

The board adjourned at noon and will reconvene at 2 o'clock to discuss the plan.

Evacuee Centers

The co-director, who recently attended a five-day civil defense session in Chicago on A-bomb problems, said Dixon and Lee county would be evacuee centers in the event Chicago's industry became A-bomb targets.

"Our problem," he told the board, "is how many people we can take care of. Lee county, according to several surveys, should be able to take 40,000 evacuees or refugees. Dixon alone should be able to care for 10,000 for a short period.

"Dixon State hospital would provide mess facilities for some 8,000 and sleeping space for 2,000. Each home in Dixon would probably care for two persons, feeding them and clothing them, until they could go back to their homes."

The 28 will be part of 3,123 men from Illinois who will be inducted into the army during January.

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—The Defense Department plans to ask congress to let it draft 18-year olds and tighten deferments and exemptions for currently draft eligible men from 19 through 25.

Felix Larkin, the Defense Department's general counsel, told reporters today of the plans. He

They were married March 24, 1945 in Dixon and separated Jan. 2, according to the complaint. No children are involved. The wife alleges Kirby has struck her on two occasions.

Ohio Girl Sets New Light Plane Record

Miami, Fla., Jan. 5—(AP)—Caro Bayley of Springfield, Ohio, drove her Piper Super Cub 30,380 feet above Miami yesterday for a new unofficial altitude record for light planes.

The official record 24,504 feet was set by Ana Luisa Branger in Washington, D. C., last year. Miss Bayley exceeded that by more than a mile.

Two of Robber Trio Get 10-to-20 Years

Two of the three men who beat and robbed Wilbur Montavan, Compton, of $60 on Nov. 17 have been sentenced to 10-to-20 years at Menard for a Fayette county robbery. Sheriff Charles Redebaugh reported today.

They are John (Buck) Lambert, 21, and Leo Rhodes, 21, both of whom lived near Ramsey. A third man involved in the beating, George McCaslin, 18, is being held in Woodford county.

Reds Threaten Wonju, Escape Center for M'Arthur's Troops

Tokyo, Jan. 5—(AP)—Swarms of Chinese Red troops pushed on southward tonight and menaced Wonju, important allied escape highway center 55 miles east of Seoul.

General MacArthur's headquarters said seven Communist armies—perhaps 210,000 men—are moving from the Chunchon area toward Wonju.

They apparently aim to destroy United Nations forces there and then wheel west in an attempt to cut off Eighth Army units retreating down from ruined Seoul.

Traffic Is Heavy

Allied pilots said they saw the heaviest traffic yet observed in Korea behind the enemy lines. They reported 1,200 vehicles clogging North Korean roads.

The allies in a skillful retreat had yielded Seoul, its airfield at Kimpo nad the port of Inchon.

At Inchon UN units blasted docks and the todal basin, then left by sea. The main body of UN troops moved on southward by land.

Four cut-off South Korean regiments broke through Communist road blocks and reached UN lines north of Wonju Thursday after a four-day battle.

Chinese troops pouring down secondary roads and through valleys could turn left or right at Wonju and possibly cut off parts of the allied forces.

It was a desperate race.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Eighth Army commander, returned to his headquarters late in the day after visiting two of his army corps defending the re-

Gambling Boss Defies Senate Probers; Cited

Washington, Jan. 5— (AP) — Dapper Anthon J. (Tony) Accardo, reputed Chicago underworld-gambling boss, refused today to tell senate investigators about his income and associates. The senators voted to cite him for contempt.

Accardo slouched in the witness chair with his hands folded and declined, during a two-hour public hearing, to answer most of the questions put to him. Many of the inquiries dealt with bookie operations in Chicago and Miami.

Claims Protection

Claiming constitutional protection, Accardo contended the answers might tend to incriminate him, or were not pertinent to the senate crime committee's investigation of organized interstate gambling.

At one point during the futile questioning, Senator Tobey (R-NH) burst out with a demand that the interrogation be suspended and Accardo cited for contempt.

"These refusals to answer are an insult to the committee and its counsel," Tobey snapped. "This is a new low, and we've had some tough ones."

Tobey said it was insulting to sit there and hear Accardo "take refuge behind the silly answer that 'I refuse to answer.' "

Those were the words with which Accardo brushed aside ques-

Austrians Mourn at Dr. Renner's Burial

Vienna, Jan. 5—(AP)—Austrians paid a last weeping farewell today to Austria's late president, Dr. Karl Renner. An estimated 300,000 mourners lined the funeral procession route of Renner's flag-drapped motor hearse through the capital.

The crowd was the largest to assemble in Vienna since the death of Emperor Franz Josef I in 1916. Renner died on Dec. 31, aged 80. He was father and founder of both the first and second Austrian Republics.

The nation's highest government officials and members of the foreign diplomatic corps paid a last tribute in Vienna's city hall. Burial was in the city cemetery.

Cold? Well, Take A Look at This And Keep Quiet!

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 5—(AP)—It is bitterly cold in western Canada today.

Prince Albert, in northern Saskatchewan, had a 7:30 a. m. temperature of 46 degrees below zero.

In other parts of Saskatchewan and Manitoba, readings of around 30 below zero were general.

Once Decorated by Soviets, 'Ike' Now Feels Their Venom

Paris, Jan. 5—(AP)—The Communists have opened up a savage hate campaign against Gen. Eisenhower, who is due here Sunday to take command of Atlantic Pact defense forces.

Communist papers in Paris, in Eastern Europe and in Moscow are assailing him in the bitterest terms. French Communists are circulating petitions against him and trying to work up protest strikes.

The first blasts at Eisenhower were printed just before Christmas when the Soviet youth newspaper in Moscow and the Literary Gazette there assailed him as "a true serf of Wall Street" and "a sergeant major of Wall Street." The Cominform Weekly, printed in Bucharest called him a "notorious warmonger." None of them mentioned that during the war he was decorated by the Russians and praised for his brave leadership.

Now, papers in Prague and Paris have taken up the cudgels. The trade union paper in Prague called him a "mercenary of warmongers" today. The French Communist organ L'Humanite early this week began its campaign by saying workers at the Hotchkiss factory in suburban St. Denis have decided on a "patriotic strike against the installing of Eisenhower in Paris."

Blindness or Death for Carolyn? In God's Hands

Atlanta, Jan. 5—(AP)—The choice for four-year-old Carolyn Purcell, said the doctors, was life and blindness or death by cancer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell, weary and tortured, replied, "God made her this way for a reason and if it is His will for her to die, there's nothing we can do about it."

So little Carolyn left Grady hospital for home yesterday, sleeping peacefully in her mother's arms.

The couple had been warned by physicians that at least one, possibly both, of the child's eyes would have to be removed to save her from a cancerous death.

"We just can't do it," said the distraught parents.

Purcell added, however, there was a chance they might change their minds; that they wanted an opportunity to rest and think some more.

US Social Security Counselor To Be Here

Dixonites who have questions about Social Security coverage are asked to see the Social Security representative during visits here in the next three months.

He will be at the city hall at 10:30 a. m. every Friday in January, February and March. If you are over 65 and have worked at least one and one-half years under Social Security or if you are the survivor of a deceased worker you can find out what payments you are entitled to by checking with the representative.

Slotless Slot Machines Get Same Treatment as the Slots

Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 5—(AP)—Police of Rock Island county were on the prowl today for slotless slot machines.

State's Attorney Bernard J. Moran directed the sheriff and all police chiefs to pick up all machines on the basis of a ruling yesterday in the county court that a machine of this type should be destroyed.

Seven of the machines were taken from taverns and cigar stores by Rock Island police last night. Earlier in the day County Judge Edward J. Turnbaugh ruled that a slotless device seized by Moline police in September should be destroyed.

No arrests accompanied last night's seizures. Moran said the machines confiscated would be held by authorities until there is a court ruling defining all such machines as gambling devices.

Judge Turnbaugh did not make a blanket ruling. He held that the particular device seized in Moline was used for gambling at the time and that it should be destroyed.

The machines differ from the ordinary one-arm bandits in that they have no coin slots. To play one, the customer pays the bartender in advance for a certain number of plays. The machine registers a score. If at the end of the play the machine shows a score in the player's favor he could —if the machine is used for gambling—take his points in additional plays, or in cash.

Douglas Demands Senate Foreign Policy Showdown

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP) — Sentaor Douglas (D-Ill) called today for a senate showdown on foreign policy. Republican leaders demanded broadening of the anti-Communist front to include Spanish, West German and Chinese Nationalist troops.

In advance of a planned foreign policy speech by Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Republican policy committee, Douglas told a reporter he thinks the senate should make a binding choice among three courses open to the nation.

Names Three Roads

He said these would include (1) Concentration on western hemisphere defenses as former President Hoover suggested; (2) Fighting only to save western Europe or (3) Battling aggression in every critical area where anti-Communist allies can be found.

While he said he favors the third effort, Douglas said he would be willing to bind himself to support whatever course a majority of the senate approves.

"The issues should be clearly stated and we should have a binding vote on the matter," he said. "We should have the mature judgment of the senate on the course to be followed."

Taft, who recently asserted there is a lack of confidence in the country in its military leadership, wouldn't expand his foreign policy views in advance of his speech.

Republicans Disagree

But other Republicans took issue with President Truman's news conference statements yesterday that (1) American planes won't bomb Communist China without United Nations permission, (2) That he doesn't need approval of congress to send more troops to Europe and (3) That he isn't considering including Spain in the military assistance program.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) told reporters he thinks it is "grotesque" to fight a limited battle against the Chinese Communists in Korea. He said Gen. Douglas MacArthur ought to have authority to "use any weapon we possess to save American lives."

Fulbright's Idea

However, Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), a foreign relations committee member, said he doesn't think it wise to bomb the Chinese now.

"Just to peck at China with a few bombs is not going to help," China. Our No. 1 objective must he declared. "I don't advocate sporadic bombing of China, and I don't advocate all-out war with be to prevent Russia from taking western Europe."

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, proposed in a television broadcast last night that the United States give other U. N. members 15 days to produce a proportionate share of the troops for the Korean fighting or evacuate Americans fighting there.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), vigorous critic of the State Department, said he thinks it would be "almost criminal" to depend on American manpower alone to fight Comunism. He said the only way to defend western Europe is to use all available manpower there, including the Spanish and West Germans.

Ike Sets Theme

Lawmakers who have been demanding that the European nations show a willingness to defend themselves, got some assurances from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the North Atlantic defense forces.

Eisenhower was quoted as telling a group of about 30 members of congress at a closed luncheon yesterday:

"There is no way to approach the international problem except with one pair of glasses and that must be the enlightened self-interest of the United States. We are going to try to work on that basis."

UN Is First Milestone on Road to World Government

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Prime Minister Nehru of India declared in a speech at the People's World Convention (PWC) Switzerland, that final world peace can be achieved only through world government.

Nehru ranks among the great personalities of our time, and therefore one listens to him with much respect. World government may be the ultimate answer. However, that is a dream of the distant future, and we have to deal with the stern realities of the very grim present.

What's UN Position?

This at once gives rise to the inquiry of how the United Nations fits into the picture. The UN was created with the idea of obtaining world cooperation in safeguarding peace by all means necessary—even to the extent of using force.

One may doubt whether the time ever will arrive when all nations will be prepared to make a complete surrender of sovereignty to a "world government." Still, the UN does demand a very considerable surrender of sovereignty—sufficient to make it a substantial forerunner of a world government—provided the membership would support the verdict of the majority.

Split Wide Open

However, not only is the UN membership split wide open on ideological lines—Communism versus Democracy—but there is a wide fringe of "neutrals" who play it safe by maintaining a middle-of-the-road course. The UN intervention in Korea provides a striking illustration of the situation.

Fifty-three of the 60 UN members are backing the UN intervention. These include all the membership except the Soviet bloc, Egypt, and Indonesia. However, less than a score of the membership is giving practical support, and some of it is "token aid."

Check the countries actually fighting under the UN flag in Korea and you will find a lot of nationalities missing.

Label Aggressor

Another case in hand is that of Red China's intervention in the Korean war. The United States delegation is understood to be canvassing support for a resolution labeling the Chinese as aggressors—this possibly being the forerunner of application for economic and diplomatic sanctions. But the subject is one which a lot of members want to avoid, and things move slowly.

This brings us to the uncomfortable thought that if we can't make the United Nations organization work now, we certainly can't make a one world parliament work.

Therefore the present day task of the UN membership would seem to be to jump in and make the peace organization function in all the activities for which it was created. The old League of Nations died because too many of its members lacked the courage of their convictions.

The day of a one world parliament is in the distant future, but its predecessor already is with us. As we develop the UN, so will develop the one world idea.

Police Round Up Clues on Slayer of Missing Family

Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 5—(AP)—Police today attempted to link a hitch-hiker sought for robbery with the baffling disappearance of an Illinois family of five whom they fear died at the hands of a fiendish slayer.

The family's automobile, seats caked with blood and punctured by bullet holes, was found on a lonely country road north of Tulsa Wednesday.

Can't Find Bodies

There were no fingerprints, no bloody trails, no footprints and—no bodies.

"It's murder—there's no question about it," said Osage county deputy Warren Smith. "We're almost certain we've got a whole family dead somewhere. It's just a question of finding them."

Missing were Carl Mosser, 33; his wife, Thelma, 29; and the couple's three small children, Ronald Dean 7, Gary Carl, 5, and Pamela Sue, 3.

Sought was a hitchhiker wanted by the FBI in connection with the holdup of an automobile near Oklahoma City Saturday. He fled with $100 and was seen later boarding a blue car bearing Illinois license plates.

The Mosser car is a blue 1949 model two-door Chevrolet. The family left the Atwood, Ill., farm home last Friday to visit Mosser's twin brother, Chris, an army lieutenant stationed at Albuquerque, N. M. He joined the search yesterday.

Car Abandoned

Two Tulsa motorists reported they were hailed by a man in the Mosser car Tuesday. He asked help to get the vehicle out of the roadside ditch where it was found abandoned 24 hours later.

One of the men gave him a lift to a drugstore. He left here in a taxicab, clerks said.

His description generally parallels that of the Oklahoma City hitchhiker.

Speedometer Mystery

Especially puzzling is the Mosser car's speedometer reading. It reads 18,601 miles. A sticker placed on it when the vehicle was serviced in Illinois last Thursday shows 15,500 miles, a difference of 3,101 miles. Atwood is slightly over 600 miles from Tulsa.

If that car was driven anywhere as far as that difference shows," said Smith, "the bodies of those people, if slain, could be hundreds of miles from here."

In Wichita Falls, Tex., the sheriff's office said it was working on a clue to the missing family. Deputy Sheriff Dick Mann added that he could not give any details.

Mann said the sheriff's office had received information that a car stopped outside Wichita Falls last Saturday night for food and gas. Two men in the car scuffled, one yelled for help and the car sped away. A hat bearing a Decatur, Ill., label was left behind. Decatur is 24 miles from Atwood, the Mosser's home.

40 Austrian Towns Isolated by Snows

Vienna, Austria, Jan. 5—(AP)—Forty Austrian hamlets were isolated today by avalanches and the heaviest snow storm in 40 years.

Some food shortages were reported in the area affected, near Hermagor in mountainous Carinthia, southwest of Graz. The villages have been cut off by road and rail since Wednesday.

Murderer Dies in Gas Chamber With Defiant Attitude

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 5—(AP)—In a final show of bravado, a convicted killer of two men flicked the dust off the execution chair with a handkerchief and then went to his death in the Missouri gas chamber early today.

He was 38-year-old Claude McGee who spent the last four years of his life in solitary confinement at the state penitentiary.

"I ain't scared to die—goodby," McGee told the guards as the gas chamber door clanged shut.

McGee was executed for killing John Manor, a fellow convict, with a claw hammer in the prison yard in 1948. Manor had been McGee's accomplice in a slaying 14 years ago.

McGee gained a reputation as a bad prisoner because of his frequent escapes.

Allies, Germans to Begin Arms Talks

Bonn, Germany, Jan. 5—(AP)—Allied-German talks on West Germany's military contribution to the western defense system will begin here next Tuesday, the allied hiigh commission announced today.

They will be opened with informal conversations on a technical level between representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, a brief communique said.

Battleship, Carrier Out of Mothballs

Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 5—(AP)—Two of the U. S. Navy's mightiest warships are coming out of mothballs to join the active fleet.

The battleship Wisconsin, 45,000-ton sister of the USS Missouri, arrived at the naval shipyard here yesterday for the de-mothballing process.

In Washington, the navy announced plans to reactivate the 27,000-ton carrier Tarawa.

Claim Private Eyes Collected On Shakedown

Chicago, Jan. 5—(AP)—Three private detectives have been accused of getting $1,841 by posing as government agents in a shakedown racket.

They are Harry S. Kneevers, 30, and Thomas Furlong, 33, partners in a detective agency, and Daniel Anthony Burns, 30, who works for them. A fourth man is sought.

Posed as FBI Men

George R. McSwain, Chicago FBI agent, said all four men are charged with impersonating a federal officer and conspiracy. He said the men visited four Chicago area establishments, posing as FBI agents and threatened to close the places if they were not paid.

Kneevers, Furlong and Burns denied the charges. They were held to the grand jury and freed on $5,000 bond each.

Kneever's wife, Patricia Bronte Kneevers, a former newspaper reporter, complained to police that she was slugged on the head on the near north side Friday. Police then quoted her as saying she was investigating a shakedown racket.

Otto Kerner, Jr., federal district attorney, said the three private detectives faked raids on four establishments in November when the Kefauvre crime investigation committee was active here.

Used Drawn Guns

McSwain said the first place they visited was Carey's Inn, 301 Patterson road, Joliet, coming in with drawn guns and flashing badges and credentials. He said they got $900 there.

They got $135 at the Parkmoor cabins on Route 66 near Wilmington, south of Joliet; $10 at the Ginger Snap tavern in Norwood Park township, and $496 from employes of the Trophy Inn, Gedley, Ill., 15 miles south of Joliet, McSwain said.

He said they also went to the Club Alamo, in Norwood township, but the proprietress ordered them out and they left empty handed.

STURDY SOIL

Due to its higher content of organic matter, virgin soil may hold one-fifth more moisture than soil which has been cropped for 20 years.

The U. S. public transit system regularly employs 261,000 persons, with an annual payroll of $825,000,000.

Warren Wood, New Speaker of House Has Tremendous Powers

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5—(AP)—In his new job as speaker, Republican Warren L. Wood will have a stronger hand in lawmaking than anyone else in the Illinois house.

The speaker has the vital power of calling bills—that is, bringing them up for action—or not calling them.

Some backers of the Broyles anti-Communist bills claim the bills died in 1949 only because they were not called, although this is disputed.

Has Much Power

The speaker appoints committee chairmen. Through his power to refer bills for committee hearings, he can do much to see that they receive favorable consideration or wind up in a pigeonhole.

Wood may make his important post a springboard to bigger things—perhaps a crack at statewide elective office in 1952.

Wood, a navy veteran with 14 years in the legislature, told reporters yesterday he is starting from scratch and will meet responsibilities headon.

He said he has no promises to redeem in picking 25 committee chairmen.

"Whatever happens, it will be my doing," he said.

In previous assembly sessions, Wood seldom raised his voice in debate. Occasionally, he had a few words on legislation affecting veterans.

Four years ago, he led a successful drive to expand and improve courses at the University of Illinois for training aspirants to careers in government.

One of his favorite themes is better government from village to federal levels, with less executive domination and a bigger role for legislative bodies.

He's 40 Years Old

He thinks that generally Illinois governors—Republican and Democratic—tend to encroach too much on the legislative domain.

Wood was 24 when he came to the house in 1936. Now at 40, he still is one of the youngest men to occupy the speaker's chair. His hair is mostly gray. He retains a trim, athletic look, standing nearly six feet and weighing 170 pounds.

Away from the legislature Wood operates an insurance agency in Plainfield and manages a 435 acre farm. He is married and has one son, Brian, 8. His late father, Harvey Wood, was a former mayor of Joliet.

Men Do Not Know How Much Energy Housework Takes

Housework to anyone but a housewife is just another necessary chore that takes just a short time with a minimum of effort. Most menfolks don't realize what a hard job housework really is and what a great amount of energy it takes. Mrs. O. E. Moncus, 66-year-old great-grandmother, didn't feel up to doing her housework, but now, since she is taking HADACOL, she is able to do her housework without a mite of trouble. Mrs. Moncus found that HADACOL supplied Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which her system lacked.
Mrs. Moncus says, "I was weak, run-down, nervous and food didn't agree with me like it should. It gave me indigestion. And I had no appetite. I heard about HADACOL on the radio and how it had helped people who felt like I did. I had aches and pains, too, and these, plus the other things that bothered me, made me feel mighty bad. I just didn't feel up to doing my housework. I started taking HADACOL and after the third bottle I could tell I was a whole lot better. I have taken 18 bottles of HADACOL and I feel so good. I am no longer weak or run-down or nervous. I feel stronger and have pep and energy. My appetite is fine and I no longer have indigestion. And the aches and pains—why, they have been relieved so much. My weight went back to normal and I do my housework without a mite of trouble—mop the floors and clean the blinds and feel fine afterwards. I think HADACOL is wonderful. My husband takes it too, as does my daughter. We make sure that there is always plenty of HADACOL in the house." —Adv.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A victory won over self, is the only victory acceptable to God.—Charles Noel Douglas.

Priest Defends Right to 'Hit First'

The idea of "preventive war" has been examined thoughtfully and rejected by our leaders. They have spurned it on two counts:

1. There is really no such thing as a preventive war in the sense that a war can be fought to prevent war.

2. Undertaking a war to get the jump on the enemy and prevent DEFEAT is something else. But our moral position in the world will not allow us to take this step even though we know the Soviet Union is plotting our destruction. We must, the argument goes, wait for conclusive overt action by our prospective enemy.

Most of the speculation on this point, however, has assumed that if we were to strike first, we would hit well in advance of the first enemy blow, when he was perhaps giving no sign of immediate action.

An entirely new notion has now been injected into this argument by Father Edmund Walsh, S.J., regent of Georgetown University's foreign service school. His statement carries especial weight because he is a prominent Catholic educator, treating a subject on which the church has strong moral convictions.

Father Walsh believes we may be fully warranted morally in striking the enemy first if we have positive, reliable information that he is about to hit us. He illustrates with the case of Japan in 1941.

The Japanese carrier fleet left a Jap port on Nov. 26, 1941, bound for its crippling attack upon Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7. According to Father Walsh, we would have been thoroughly justified in intercepting that fleet at any point in its course—had we known beyond doubt what its goal was.

Put simply, this is the right of self-defense and self-preservation, which is sanctioned both morally and legally by our democratic system. Primitive man could not be blamed for striking first when he saw an enemy fist coming at him. As the threat moved back in space, first through use of knives and then of the spear, the bow and arrow, and finally guns of ever-lengthening ranges, the danger remained immediate and real. In other words, it was close in time, though not in space.

Today the danger is from atomic bombs, which may be carried by planes based 3000 to 5000 miles away, or atomic missiles fired from battleships or submarines poised many miles off our shore. But it is as close as a barbarian's fist to his adversary's jaw.

Father Walsh reasons that Russia would not attempt an attack on us unless well armed with A-bombs, since she knows we would use such weapons against her instantly in retaliation. If she struck, she would strive for surprise, suddenness and an absolutely crippling effect right at the start—to prevent our striking back.

Knowing this, for us to await the "first blow" is thus obviously to invite ruin and ntaional suicide. As far as effective resistance by us goes, the first blow might be the only one necessary.

Father Walsh argues that we cannot take that gamble, that we cannot allow the enemy to strike first if we wish to survive.

Were we to adopt Father Walsh's thinking as our national policy, it would impose a tremendous strain upon our civilian and military intelligence services. We would have to count upon them to tell us when—for sure—the enemy was about to strike. We could not afford to be wrong, either way.

Our national leaders may contend that the burden on intelligence would be too great, that the risk of making a mistake would be colossal.

If that should be their conviction, it would seem incumbent upon them to devise an alternative policy which would guarantee to us the right to defend and preserve our nation and our people while there is still time to save them.

What that policy should be is a matter of debate. The nation can thank Father Walsh for the fact that this vital topic has now been reopened for discussion at the most critical juncture in our national life.

Have We Learned Lesson in Korea?

The United States News and World Report says in the Dec. 29 issue that our defeats in Korea "when fully revealed" will show that the "U. S. army needs drastic shakeup in its doctrines, methods, leadership, training. The army is the great weak link in U. S. defenses.

"The U. S. Marines will get more attention for their ground-air training, their leadership and doctrine.

"The U. S. air force needs basic change in concepts of air power's role. The whole approach to ground-air co-operation will have to be changed. Air failed to protect the U. S. army from a rout by forces lacking planes and artillery.

"The U. S. navy will be recognized again as a first line of U. S. defense. Fancy ideas, sold to the country, that airplanes win wars cost heavily in Korea. The price of that lesson is high in casualties. Yet top U. S. military leaders, who muffed decisions so badly, are to be kept in their jobs."

The question still remains unanswered, therefore, as to whether we shall actually learn the lesson of Korea sufficiently well to correct it. Our top military and foreign policy planners have failed. Shall we perpetuate that failure! The least the public can do is demand a revision of military policy to conform to the experiences of war. The best the public could do is demand replacement of those who have been proved so tragically wrong from Gen. Omar N. Bradley on down.

America needs unity badly, but it needs competent leadership behind which to unite. We don't have it in important places in Washington today. The president has at his command the best military and diplomatic brains in the nation. He can unite the nation if he will call them to service to replace some of his cronies now holding high office.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Cut-Throat Canasta Is Fun

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Whenever I play three-handed Canasta," writes a San Francisco reader, "the evening ends in an argument. For example, here's the incident that started the fireworks last night.

"I froze the pack to avoid giving it away to my wife, who was at my left. Two plays later my wife made a discard that gave the pack to my son (the third player in our family game.)

"Now I wouldn't have minded this, except that it was obvious that she was giving the pack away deliberately. In fact, she admitted it quite cheerfully when I taxed her with it.

"I said quite a few things about what was sporting to do and what wasn't. My wife took the other side of the argument, and my son just laughed at both of us.

"What is the expert view of this situation? Is it sporting to give the pack away on purpose?"

It certainly is. In fact, this involves the most important feature of three-hand Canasta. The game is completely cut-throat. Like Ishmael, your hand is against every man, and every man's hand is against you.

No player is your partner, and therefore no player has the duty of cooperating with you. If you make a play that puts you out on a limb, you must expect one of the other players to come after you with a saw, and smile as he saws that limb off.

Let's examine the case of a freeze. My friend froze the pack to keep it away from his wife. If she cooperated with his play, she would be acting against her own interest. She'd never get the pack herself, so it would eventually go to friend husband.

From her point of view, it made good sense to give the pack away deliberately—especially if this could be done before it got too big. Then nobody would benefit too much from the play that had been directed against her.

As a matter of fact, let's change the situation a bit, and we'll see that the same principle applies. Husband sees that wife is having trouble finding the safe discards. He freezes the pack to make it easier for her to discard safely. Is it sporting for her to give the pack away deliberately when it has been frozen for her benefit?

Yes, even then. Each player must play his own hand and decide for himself what will serve his interests. No other player has the right to make you play for his benefit. If a player tries to help you, and you think his idea is a poor one, you have every right to ignore his unwelcome help.

If these principles are understood, three-hand Canasta becomes a fascinating game. You never blame another player because you don't expect anything of him. The game becomes a battle of wits, in which everybody lashes out in both directions at once.

Great fun, if you like a good fight.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

New Price for Corn Advanced 2c Per Bushel

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 5—(AP)—The government has announced a new minimum price for surplus corn stored in Illinois.

The government yesterday set a minimum of $1.61 a bushel for 66,000,000 bushels of 1948 and 1949 crop corn acquired under the corn price support program. This is a two cents increase over the price set last Dec. 14.

Howard G. Abbott, a member of the Illinois Production and Marketing Administration committee, said the price raise reflects the governments increased investment in surplus corn holdings.

He explained that the Credit Commodities Corporation has to pay rental for bin sites where corn is stored as well as storage charges to country warehouses. The warehousemen receive one-twentieth of a cent per bushel for each day the corn is stored, but can only get a maximum of 10 cents per bushel during one year.

Abbott said the corn will be sold at the nearest elevator market prices or at 17 cents a bushel above the 1950 county corn loan rate—whichever is higher. The 1950 Illinois corn rate ranged from $1.44 to $1.51, with an average of $1.47.

He added that the corn will not be sold for speculative purposes or on the open market. County PMA committees, he said, will determine a buyer's eligibility.

Skin Needs Special Care During Cold Winter Days

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

There ought to be a "Be kind to your skin week." There is almost every other kind of a special health week, but no one ever seems to stop and think what a tremendous amount of punishment the skin takes. First of all there is so much of it. It gets exposed to cold and hot air, to too much sun or not enough. It is constantly in contact with germs which would be dangerous if the skin let them inside.

Not satisfied with normal hazards which cannot be avoided we use soap, clothing which contains dyes, and some of us put on rouge and powder which any self-respecting skin would be likely to resent. With all the abuse of the skin that goes on what is surprising is that all of us aren't itching or broken out with some rash most of the time.

The skin is pretty tough but it shouldn't be treated as badly as it is. It helps to keep the skin reasonably clean by bathing often enough and using a mild soap or one of the cleansing detergents. But in winter, and in people with dry skins, bathing should not be as frequent. A simple cold cream may help to combat the dryness.

It is also important to choose the right clothes for the occasion. I mean fabrics and weights, not color or style. Too heavy clothing in hot weather, for example, prevents the sweat glands from cooling the body as they are supposed to do. In children especially this can bring on a heat rash.

CHEMICALS ACT

But the skin gets its hardest test because of the many chemicals with which it comes in contact. In industry this has developed into such a problem that the united effort of physicians, employers, and employes has been necessary.

We are lucky to have such a satisfactory outer covering. Most of the time it serves us remarkably well, but it does get injured, bitten by insects, irritated by chemicals, and there are a number of skin diseases, both of known and unknown cause, which attack some of us from time to time. A few of these skin difficulties will be discussed in other columns this week.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

If You Do These Things You've Never Grown Up

Whatever your age you aren't completely grown up if:

It makes you unhappy to see a friend get ahead or be able to buy things you can't afford.

You feel there is just one "crowd" in your town you want to belong to—and that if they accept you, you'll really amount to something.

You have to "get even" with anyone who slights you in any way.

You keep strict account of what you do for others—and expect them to do equally as much for you, resenting it when they don't.

You always have to have one friend you can count on to listen to all your troubles and boost your ego by telling you that you are in the right and whoever disagrees with you is in the wrong.

You are more concerned with the impression you make on others when you first meet them than in enjoying the chance to get acquainted with a new person.

You are miserable if you hear about a party to which a lot of your friends have been invited but to which you have not received an invitation.

BROADCASTING ONE'S GOOD WORKS

If you do another person a favor you make quick work of seeing to it that all your friends know of your good deed.

It takes you a long time to make even a simple decision—and after you've made it you worry for fear it might have been better differently.

You get your feelings hurt easily—and when they're hurt you don't try to hide the fact, but want the other person to know how callous he has been.

He Makes Some Nice Comparisons Between the Remington Case and Alger Hiss Case. It Seems Both Smell

Westbrook Pegler

New York—I noted one day a very interesting peculiarity in the coverage of the Remington trial in the New York Times and the Herald-Tribune as compared with the briefer stories in the tabloid Mirror and the tabloid Daily News. The Times and Herald-Tribune are stately, not to say stuffy, full-size papers. Both of them have given us reason to examine their journalism for subtle slants and sly omissions in cases involving charges of Communism. However, the readers might not have detected such deviations from objective journalism but for the vigilance of certain anti-Communist observers. We began by noting out loud many flagrancies in their book reviews and Sunday supplements and pursued the same scrutiny with similar results in their news columns. The Herald-Tribune's coverage of the Alger Hiss case was such that Tom Murphy, the prosecuting attorney, now the police commissioner, took public notice of the crude job of work that was done.

In the present case, William W. Remington, formerly an "economist" in the Department of Commerce, is charged with perjury in that he told a federal grand jury under oath that he never belonged to the Communist party. It is almost the same as the case of Alger Hiss who was convicted of perjury but with implications of constructive treason. Hiss denied on oath that he ever had been a member of the Communist party and denied, moreover, that he had ever given Whittaker Chambers any secret documents of the State Department where he was serving as special protege of Felix Frankfurter and special friend of Dean Acheson. The perjury conviction, recently upheld, implies that the jury believed Hiss did betray his country to a Communist courier serving Soviet Russia. All this notwithstanding, Acheson wouldn't "turn his back" on Hiss, and Eleanor Roosevelt had the gall to put forth her friendship for Hiss as an assurance of his innocence.

In the Remington trial, the Mirror's account said Remington's divorced wife testified that she introduced her husband to Harold Laski, the English Communist, who managed to get engagements teaching "economics" at Columbia and Harvard. Laski was a muddy, slippery agent of the grand conspiracy with a dead-pan pose of intellectual objectivity and injured innocence who was very close to Felix Frankfurter. He never admitted that he was a Communist but he was convicted of it. Further, the Mirror reported, "Laski introduced Remington to a professor at Harvard who is now a Supreme Court justice.

Of course the only Supreme Court justice who ever was a professor at Harvard is Frankfurter.

The Daily News version said: "Mrs. Remington shed some light on the circles in which her ex-husband had moved. She said he consulted several persons on whether he ought to study economics or take up law. Among them, she said, were the late Harold Laski, British labor party leader, and a 'professor Harvard who is now a Supreme Court justice'. Mrs. Remington said she introduced Remington to Laski and Laski introduced Remington to the professor."

This masking of the identity of Frankfurter is not a new development. When Hiss was before the committee on un-American activities he squirmed and begged the examiner not to compel him to say that Felix had planted him in the new deal bureaucracy. He gave in and did so only under great pressure, indicating, I thought, that he believed, as I certainly did, that he was implicating Felix in a business that was not credit to a man sworn to uphold the Constitution of the United States. Later, when Felix had the effrontery to present himself as a character witness for Hiss, Mr. Murphy beat his self-assurance down with just one question. He asked Felix whether he had also planted Leon Pressman in the government, knowing that Pressman, another Communist and another happy hot dog from Harvard Law also was a Frankfurter protege. This was cruel and unusual punishment in the eyes of Judge Sam Kaufman, whose conduct of the case became a scandal. He ruled that Weenie didn't have to answer.

Now we come to the phenomenal treatment of the Remington case that day by the New York Times and the Herald-Tribune. The Times, whose tarnished motto is "All the News That's Fit to Print," did not consider this implication of Frankfurter to be fitting news. The Herald-Tribune, by its own peculiar but consistent scale of news value, ignored it also.

But this was the second time that Frankfurter had been dealt into a trial with implications of treason. For Remington, like Hiss, is accused of handing over secret government papers to a Russian agent. The Agent in this case was Elizabeth Bentley, who started this chain of explosions in the enemy underground and got herself sued for libel by Remington. She refused to pay off or settle and still dares Remington to face the issue before a jury. The radio company which carried her remarks curled up and paid. In the event of his conviction in the present case, that settlement will illustrate the possibility of blackmail which is present in some of these Communist suits. It takes integrity in a corporation and strong moral courage in counsel to face down the plaintiffs in such cases. These qualities are not always present.

But note this: The New York Times and the Herald-Tribune omitted from their stories, which were much longer than the pieces in the Mirror and the News, the testimony which put Felix Frankfurter into the intellectual and ideological career of William W. Remington, his second implication in the preparatory experience of a man inferentially charged with traitorism.

Koreans Face Decision: Leave Seoul or Stay Under Red Rule

By TOM STONE

Seoul — (Delayed) — (AP) — Kim Soon Pie slipped on his tattered overcoat and stepped out of his little house here.

He wanted to walk alone through the streets and think.

It had fallen upon him as head of his house to make a decision.

His thoughts were interrupted by someone who stopped to talk.

"I am standing here trying to make up my mind," he said.

"I have a family of six—myself, my wife, our son, his wife and their two children. The wife of my son has a child inside her and it will be born soon.

Reds Nearby

"I see these people here in the street. They leave. They can go. I don't know what I can do."

He did not know it but Red Chinese troops were only a few miles north.

But Kim did know that the time was near.

As he stood there the dull thud of artillery could be heard in the distance. American warplanes sped overhead. Army vehicles rumbled through the streets.

Through an interpreter the aged man told a war correspondent of the weight his problem was bearing on his mind:

Pondering Problem

"I have come out of the house to think and to see. I have been pondering what to do."

Two sisters bent with age huddled before a tiny charcoal stove in their house, not far from Kim's.

Both were bare-headed and in their stocking feet.

At the door the daughter of one of them talked to two strangers.

"The others have gone, and some of us must leave soon."

She said her mother was 77 and her aunt was 85.

"I cannot decide whether to leave my mother and aunt here or try to take them with us. They would surely die either way," she said.

Her face displayed no emotion. Her voice was matter of fact.

Not Afraid

Hearing the conversation at the door, the elder of the two old women lifted herself from the floor and hobbled to the door.

"We are not afraid to stay," she said in a loud shrill voice.

She looked up. "I have many thanks for the U. N. forces. They are not Korean but they come to Korea from very far country and fight for Korean people, for happiness and for peace," she said.

The interpreter interrupted her and explained, "She says that the U. N. soldier will not let the Chinese come. She says they will protect her and she wants to stay in her home."

Twenty-Eight More Get Call In Draft Here

said a manpower bill would be submitted to congress within two weeks designed to meet additional needs for men for the armed services.

May Alter It

Larkin said the plan is to extend the present 21-month service period for draftees to 27 or 30 months. He added, however, that this term was not firm and might be changed before the manpower bill reaches congress.

About 1,200,000 boys will reach 18 during the next fiscal year beginning July 1 and about 800,000 of these could be expected to meet physical requirements for military service, Larkin estimated.

He said the Defense Department's manpower proposals do not envisage the drafting of any women.

Larkin said the Defense Department is working out its own proposed manpower law and that undoubtedly selective service and other agencies will submit their own ideas to congress.

Automatic Draft

The Defense Department proposal, he said, would permit 17-year olds to enlist with their parents' permission; 18-year olds would be automatically eligible for the draft as soon as they had completed high school. He added that those who reached 19 and were still in high school would "probably have to be yanked out."

Larkin said 18-year old draftees would not be sent overseas until after they had completed their full basic military training.

changed for controls on farm products.

Truman In Hint

Asked if he intedded to ask congress for a change, the president suggested that reporters wait for his state of the union message Monday—a broad hint he would make such a recommendation.

The controls law provides that prices on farm products must not be lower than (A) the highest prices in the month before the Korean war or (B) Parity prices—whichever are higher. (Parity is a legal farm price standard declared by law to be equally fair to the farmer and consumer.)

Senator Aiken (R-Vt), senior Republican member of the senate agriculture committee, summed up the feeling of a number of key lawmakers about changing this formula when he told a reporter:

"Congress will never agree to prejudicing the case of the farmer. Any effort to freeze farm prices at less than parity would not only be grossly unfair, but downright dangerous to national security."

Two major senate leaders, Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the senate banking committee, which handles price legislation, and Senator Ellender (D-La), slated to become chairman of the senate agriculture committee, said they agreed.

Middleman Again

"It's not the farmer that is getting the money, it's the in-between-fellow," Maybank snapped.

Ellender contended that retailers, wholesalers and jobbers were "piling up costs on the American people."

Another member of the banking committee, Senator Capehart (R-Ind), also said he is "opposed to giving the farmers anything less than parity, because we need food and lots of it."

Prepared Human Skin for Elsa Inmate Testifies

Augsburg, Germany, Jan. 5—(AP)—A former Buchenwald concentration camp prisoner testified today that Ilse Koch was present when the camp doctor ordered him to prepare some tattooed human skins for her.

Several witnesses have testified previously that prisoners frequently died or disappeared soon after Mrs. Koch admired their tatoos.

Mrs. Koch, widow of Buchenwald's former commander, is on trial in a German court accused of causing inmates to be murdered and tortured.

The witness, Johan Walter, said he was working in the camp's pathological laboratory when Mrs. Koch came in, accompanied by an SS (elite guard) doctor named Mueller. She stood by, he said, while the doctor directed him to prepare some pieces of tattooed human skin for Mrs. Koch.

Deaths

James, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hooper, 114 Everett street, Dixon, was born dead Thursday morning at KSB hospital. Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Preston funeral home with Rev. Bliss B. Cartwright officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

Taft Banquet May Start '52 Campaign

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—More than 100 top Republicans met here last night at a dinner to celebrate the victory of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in the recent election.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) called it the opening of a Taft campaign for the presidency in 1952, but the Ohioan and others called it purely social. Senators Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Capehart (R-Ind), for example, said the dinner had no political significance.

But Wherry said "it looked like the opening of a campaign to me."

The ace of clubs, in card games, often is called the "puppyfoot."

'Yankee Doodle' Password to Get Teen-Agers Dope

New York, Jan. 5—(AP)— A young store clerk was accused by police today of selling dope along with bubble gum and candy to teen-agers who gave the password: "Yankee Doodle."

The arrest of Jay Seifert, 17, of Brooklyn, the clerk, followed a two-week vigil of detectives posing as casual customers.

The police also arrested dapperly-dressed Harold Pugathch, 23, of Brooklyn, as the alleged dope supplier. Police said he had ten suits of clothes worth about $100 each.

Both youths were charged with illegal possession of narcotics with intent to sell.

Police said teen-agers giving the password would buy gum, candy or cigarettes and that the clerk would slip a capsule of heroin to them along with the legitimate purchase.

Senator Hits President for Invoking War

Atlantic defense pact was ratified by the senate "responsible officials" denied that the United States would be called upon to use ground forces in Europe.

"If the President in his conference with Mr. Attlee, or Secretary Acheson at Brussels has undertaken to commit the United States to any such assistance before or during a war they are usurping the authority given by law and their program should be submitted to congress for consideration," Taft declared.

Doubts Authority

"The President has no power to agree to send American troops to fight in Europe in a war between the members of the Atlantic pact and Soviet Russia. Without authority he involved us in the Korean war. Without authority he apparently is now adopting a similar policy in Europe.

"This matter must be debated and determined by congress and by the people of this country if we are to maintain any of our constitutional freedoms."

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) earlier asked for a showdown on foreign policy and that the senate should make a binding choice among three courses open to the nations.

Former Mayor Asks Economy In Government

told Slothower:

"The neighbors on Douglas avenue are for you Bill."

Slothower answered:

"That's the best recommendation a man could have."

Although petitions to run for mayor cannot be filed legally until Jan. 8, there are now two avowed candidates and two more who are expected to toss their hats into the mayoralty melee. The current mayor, J. Fred Hofmann, is running for re-election on a campaign to "Let Dixon Grow."

Lindquist, Knack to Run?

That would make a total of four names on the primary ballot Feb. 27. The top two would oppose each other in the city election April 17.

The other names mentioned often in connection with the election of a mayor are George Lindquist, now commissioner of public property, and Walter Knack, a prominent Dixon businessman.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued today by County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock to Richard W. Hann, 21, Franklin Grove, and Helen K. Beard, 21, Dixon.

County To Be Chicago Haven If A-Bomb Hits

veteran who heads the local civil defense plan along with John Culley, said another major job is to allay fear.

"There's no use for anyone near an A-bomb target trying to get into a car and run. Frankly, it'd be the same as running from battle. They couldn't get away anyhow. In Chicago, for instance, roads leading out will be blocked to allow a path for the injured, the infirm and the children."

Needed a Plan

"People have asked why we haven't done anything in view of all the talk about an atomic war. We couldn't proceed until we had a plan. Now, the state director of civil defense, Major Leonox R. Lohr, has issued a plan. It's designed to co-ordinate the efforts of the federal government, the 48 states and local governments.

Since Dixon wouldn't be a critical area in any event, it's been designated as an evacuee center. Critical areas, some 25 of them in the United States, consist of a five-mile concentration of industry."

Education a Problem

Wimpleberg told supervisors another major job would be education, "particularly as it concerns the care, feeding, clothing and medical care for the casualties and the helpless."

"We have to educate everyone in Lee county," he emphasized, "that each home will have to care for two persons for about two weeks."

"We have to keep families together," he said in his 25-minute factual talk. "Without families, we have no nation."

Can Be Prosecuted

The committee action means that Accardo's conduct will be reported to the senate with a recommendation that he be cited for contempt of congress. If the senate approves, the case will be sent to the U. S. District Attorney for presentation to a grand jury.

Conviction of contempt carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

Mt. Etna Lava Threatens to Destroy Towns

Catania, Sicily, Jan. 5—(AP)—New flows of liquid lava from Mt. Etna today brought fresh threat to the villages between the highway from Zaffarana to the coastline. They came from beneath the crusted older flow.

Reports from volcano experts said that in addition to the continued lava stream coming above the old lava, new streams from underground had appeared in several points.

This lava, kept at a very high temperature by the crust of old stone, is very fluid and moves at a speed of 450 feet an hour, the experts said.

One stream 150 feet wide and 15 feet deep last night reached a point 2,050 feet above sea level—greatest advance of the five-week eruption.

The main craters opened by the recent eruption are at more than 7,000 feet above sea level.

Sun spots have been discovered ranging in size from 300 miles to 60,000 miles in diameter.

A Tribute to Our Milkmen!

Those cheery, white-clad men who deliver your milk every day . . . do you ever consider the part that they play in your family life? Dependable as the rosy morning, at your door daily 365 times a year, eager to please you . . . does anyone give you more important service? Next time you see your Milkman, give him a friendly slap on the back and tell him what a grand job he's doing. He'll beam with happiness and tell his boss what swell folks your are.

Car Price Curbs To Be Examined By John Hancock

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—The only price ceilings yet ordered by the government—those on automobiles—are about to be re-examined.

Price Director Michael V. DiSalle last night appointed John M. Hancock, New York investment banker, to hold hearings and recommend whether the automobile order issued Dec. 18 should be changed or left as it is.

That order required auto makers to roll their prices back to Dec. 1 levels and keep them that way until March 1. The manufacturers have protested that this was unfair. Hancock will hear their arguments, "as soon as possible," DiSalle said. That might mean within a weekor two.

Captured AP Man Is "Safe" as Red PW

Tokyo, Jan. 5—(AP)—A Peiping radio broadcast said today that Frank Noel, Associated Press photographer captured by the Chinese Reds in Korea on Dec. 1, is safe in a rear-area prisoners' camp.

The radio quoted a Communist special correspondent as saying Noel was one of the prisoners who—the radio said—signed a statement thanking the Reds for "courteous and kind treatment." The broadcast was heard by the Associated Press in Tokyo.

Noel's address was given by the radio as Albany, N. Y. This, presumably, was intended as evidence that the photographer actually was a captive and had given his address. The radio also said he was "an Associated Press correspondent with the rank of captain with the First Marine division."

Pilgrim's Progress Now in Sound Film

John Bunyan's story of Pilgrim's journey from the City of Destruction to the Celestial City has had a tremendous effect upon thousands of lives throughout the world! It has ranked next to the Bible as the world's best seller! This wonderful allegory has given Christians a new vision of our Lord, and of His loving guidance and care for His children throughout the vicissitudes of this life and into the Gloryland. Today after more than four years of hard, painstaking work, "Pilgrim's Progress." is completed in a fully animated sound color motion picture. Real thrills await you as you follow Pilgrim through the Sloughs of Despond, his meeting Mr. Worldly Wiseman, who falsely directs him to Mt. Sinai, his arrival at the wicket gate, and the House of the Interpreter. And what a joy when he loses his heavy load at the foot of the Cross! Many adventures follow, and after Christian receives his armor at the Palace Beautiful he has that breath taking, life and death battle with Apollyon.

Each succeeding scene is thrilling. The Valley of the Shadow of Death, Vanity Fair, Doubting Castle, Giant Despair, Flatterer and his entangling net, Beulah Land, the crossing of the River of Death, and into the Celestial city.

This fifty-five minute film will be shown at the Bethel U. E. Church this Sunday afternoon at 3:30 and Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Filmspiration Time. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to come. —Adv.

"Everything is going fine," he said.

Civilians Trapped

But the tough army general said the retreat from Seoul was dwarfed by the tragedy of hundreds of thousands of Koreans unable to get ahead of the oncoming Communists.

The last UN elements, port and service personnel at burning Inchon, blew up the harbor at 2 a. m. Friday and rode out on the morning tide.

UN planes already were bombing Seoul and Kimpo, its main airfield.

F-80 Shooting Star jets attacked a Chinese battalion at the demolished air base with rockets and jellied gasoline fire bombs.

AP Correspondent Don Huth flew over Seoul and said the deserted South Korean capital was still a mass of flames and smoke.

General Ridgway described the mass movement as "perhaps the greatest tragedy to which Asia has ever been subjected in the course of its long history."

"Issue Not Korea"

He said the "issue is not Korea" but "whether some day the same thing goes on in America or the western world or whether we can keep it away from our shores until international agreements have worked the problem out in more orderly fashion.'

There were no allied losses in men in the Inchon area reported to general headquarters here.

On land American and British units fought a brilliant rearguard action out of Seoul and onto the road to the southeast.

Coupled with the terrific losses allied troops inflicting on the attacking Reds, the Communists paid heavily for the scarred hull of Seoul and Inchon.

Eighth Army headquarters late Friday said there was no longer any organized contact with the enemy. But the Reds pressed on like ants searching for the allied rearguard.

Off-the-Farm Jobs Up During December

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Off-the-farm jobs rose 354,000 in December to a 54,075,000 total, second only to the 54,407,000 record set last August.

But a 1,317,000 seasonal drop in the number of farm workers cut the nation's overall employment by 963,000

In reporting this yesterday, the census bureau said the total of 2,229,000 unemployed left a slim labor reserve available to meet swelling manpower needs in 1951.

Dukes Invade Rochelle for League Tilt Tonight

Janowicz Dismissed at Ohio State; Low Grades

Re-Instatement Possible, Must Correct Scholastic Troubles

Columbus, O., Jan. 5—(AP)—Versatile Vic Janowicz. Ohio State university's All-America halfback and Heisman Trophy winner, may not be allowed to re-enter school for the winter term because of failing grades, it was reported Friday.

University officials declined to confirm a report by the Ohio State Journal that the 20-year-old Elyria, O., junior had been dismissed from school. The winter term began Wednesday.

And Janowicz, a junior with another year of football eligibility, said he did not know whether he was "in or out" of school. He told a newsman that two overdue parking tickets had prevented him from receiving his grades. But Janowicz added that he expected to talk to university officials about his standing Friday.

May Be Reinstated

The Journal said Thursday night it learned Janowicz had been dismissed because he failed to meet certain scholastic standards. Such failure means dismissal for at least one quarter, the scholastic period on which Ohio State operates.

A student thus dismissed may be re-instated under certain conditions. And Janowicz apparently has a chance of getting back in school if he has been dismissed.

Bland L. Stradley, Ohio State vice president, declined to confirm the dismissal report. He said Janowicz's grades were "the private property of him and his parents." But he confirmed that the Lyria youth had not enrolled in the winter term.

Janowicz, who ran, passed and kicked himself into national prominence including the Associated Press All-America team, was contacted in Cleveland. Thursday night he received the Cleveland Touchdown club's "Outstanding College Football Player in the Nation" award.

To Confer With Dean

He said he found out from an instructor last month that he failed a course in political science. And he added he may have failed another course in botany. These two failures said Janowicz, would subject him to expulsion from the university.

A newsman asked Janowicz why he did not pay the fines, pick up his grades and enroll in Ohio State for the winter quarter while in Columbus Wednesday. He replied: "What do you mean? Pay $12?"

He said he expected to talk to the Ohio State dean Friday and find out his standing.

Dr. Stradley explained that Ohio State permits any student to apply for reinstatement after one quarter of expulsion. The student's petition must be approved by the university executive committee.

Conceivably, if the All-America halfback has been dismissed, he could be re-instated in the spring quarter which begins in late March. Then if he again enrolled in summer school and made up failing grades, he would again be eligible to play football in the fall.

All-Around Performer

This would be good news for Columbus football fans, who have taken the Elyria youth to their touch-down happy hearts.

Janowicz last season performed just about every task but that of the waterboy. At the beginning of the season he called signals, did all of the punting when in the game, most of the passing, and ran and blocked. He kicked off, passed or kicked for extra points, was a field goal expert and the No. one defensive star for the Buckeyes.

After the opening game with Southern Methodist, Coach Wesley Fesler recently resigned to enter private business.

Cronin Denies Sale of Williams

Boston, Jan. 5—(AP)—General manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox denied Friday that Ted Williams would be traded to the Philadelphia Athletics.

A Miami story in the Boston Post said the slugger would go to the A's in exchange for first baseman Ferris Fain and pitchers Coleman, Brissie and Shantz.

"Williams is being sold or traded twice a month, according to reports in the press or radio," Cronin said. "Williams won't be sold or traded. Period."

Coast Officials Discuss Fate Of Bowl, TV

Riverside, Calif., Jan. 5—(AP)—The fate of Pacific Coast conference participation in the annual Rose Bowl football classic will be decided at a special meeting in San Francisco.

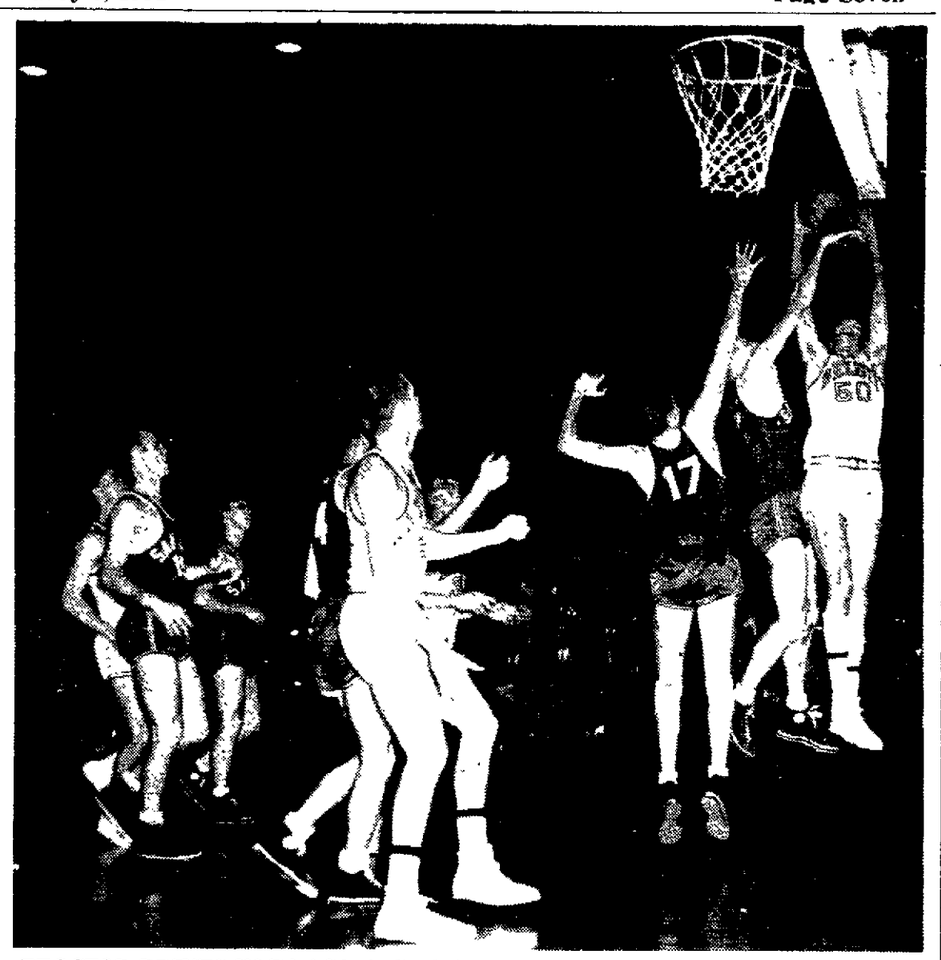

Faculty representatives and athletic directors, and possibly the school presidents, will meet in the bay area at a date to be set later. Presumably it will be shortly after the NCAA convention in Dallas next week.

Friday the conference tackled several other major problems, chiefly television as it pertains to PCC football games.

The delegates admittedly are deeply concerned over television and slumping attendance receipts, particularly in the lushest section of the coast, Los Angeles.

"While no definite action has yet been taken on television, certain information regarding attendance figures has been submitted which has proved disturbing and undoubtedly will have a bearing on any decision which is made," said Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt.

Schmidt disclosed that of the 30 games televised in the San Francisco Bay area, Seattle and Los Angeles, 21 fell below the estimates of receipts guaranteed by the television agreement, and 13 of the 21 found the deficit exceeding the guaranteed percentage and resulting in "uncompensated losses."

PROCTOR DRIVES IN TO SCORE FOR BELOIT — Lou Proctor, Buccaneer center, drives past George Clark of San Jose State to mark up two points in Beloit's 86-57 rout of the invading coast team Thursday night. Also making an attempt to block Proctor's shot is San Jose's Charles Crampton. Other players in the foreground of the picture are Bill Kelly of Beloit and Mortimer Schorr (4) of San Jose.

Squads Seek First Conference Victories

Friday night the Dixon cagers wil go out after their first North Central Illinois conference win when they invade Rochelle. The game will be their first outing in two weeks, after a vacation from cage competition during the holidays.

In the initial league tilt the Dukes dropped at 57-41 decision to Rock Falls. Saturday night the Rockets will visit the Duke gym for their second meeting but will have no bearing on league standings.

Today's Prep Cage Menu

Dixon at Rochelle.
Oregon at Amboy.
Leaf River at Ashton.
Franklin Grove at Ohio.
Serena at Paw Paw.
Mendota at Sterling.
Rock Falls at Princeton.

Coach Len Skoglund's Hubs should prove a tough match for the Dukes. Although they lack height, the Hubs have a high scoring front wall. Three of their regulars have consistently figured in the scoring. Leading the pack is Malcomb Bushnell, six foot one inch center, Jan Frisch, and Doyle Stroud, forwards.

Have Similar Record

All three cagers played top roles in the Hubs winning of the Mendota Hohday tournament. Bushnell was high with a 13 point average.

The Hubs like the Dukes dropped their opening conference game when they fell before Hall Township. To date Rochelle has won two and lost five contests.

They hold victories over Mt. Morris and Polo, and have lost to Geneo-Kingston, Belvidere, Sycamore, Moosehart and Township.

The Dukes also have five losses in their record books, but have made more marks in the win, having dumped four of their opponents.

Dukelets to Play

Both teams are at top strength for tonight's battle, with the Dukes having both Kelly Kappler and Phil Kernan back in the line-up. Kappler's sore arch and Kernan's cut wrist have mended are expected to see plenty of action.

Coach Lloyd Swan's Frosh-Soph squad will play the preliminary game, with the tilt scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock.

Probable starting line-ups:

Dixon	Pos.	Rochelle
Acker	forward	Frisch
Lafferty	forward	Stroud
Mercer	center	Bushnell
Kappler	guard	Cooper
Kernan	guard	Larson

Williams Fights South American At Garden Tonite

New York, Jan. 5—(AP)—Jose Gatica, burning with ambition to become South America's first world boxing champion, takes a big step in that direction Friday night.

Gatica fights lightweight king Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., in an over-the-weight 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. If he wins or comes close he may get a shot at the crown next summer.

The thick-chested little fellow from San Louis, Argentina, is a 9 to 5 underdog against 27-year-old Williams. In his only U. S. appearance Dec. 1 he knocked out Terry Young in four rounds. Off what he showed that night, he rates a chance to score an upset. Gatica is 25.

Williams has not defended his crown since Dec. 5, 1949. As he weighed well over 140 in most of his latest fights, there is some doubt as to his ability to make the weight and still be strong. He won't have to make it tonight for it's a 140-pound contract, give or take a pound.

They are enthusiastic about Gatica and his swarming attack in South America, where he won all but one of 56 pro starts.

Musial Discusses Contract Renewal With Card Owner

St. Louis, Jan. 5—(AP)—Stan Musial and his boss talked for three and a half hours Thursday and will get together again soon for further negotiations on a 1951 contract for the St. Louis Cardinal star.

Cardinal owner Fred Saigh said his conversation with Musial was pleasant and friendly. "I'm very fond of Stan," Saigh said. "He's a fine boy, one of the finest characters in baseball."

Musial said the knee that caused him trouble last season is all right now, that he has been getting a lot of rest, and that "this resting has helped me both mentally and physically."

Neither would talk about the main subject at hand: How much Musial will be paid this year.

The two-year contract under which the National league batting champ received a reported $50,000 annually has expired. Musial has said he expects more money this year.

Golfers Tee-Off in Los Angeles Open

Los Angeles, Jan. 5—(AP)—The Los Angeles Open starts Friday and most of the experts are ready to hand the Silver anniversary event to Sammy Snead on the familiar silver platter.

Back in 1926, lighthorse Harry Cooer shot a 279 to inaugurate what has now become a $15,000 fixture on the winter chase for golf gold and glory.

Cooper is still around, and will tee off Friday in a threesome with Jimmy Hines, who won the event in 1936, and Fred Hawkins.

But Cooper has slowed with the years, and a younger crop of shotmakers has taken over. Top man, of course, is Snead, who won more than $37,000 in prize money last year.

Entries are coming in for the mixed league at the Recreation, which will start its season the first Sunday in February, in order to finish before the City tournament which will roll at the Recreation this year. If you intend to enter a team you should turn your name in as soon as possible in order to hold a spot . . . Recreation Secretary Dale Weidman is planning on a full shift of Dixon bowlers to roll in the Hockstadters tournament in Chicago this year, and is taking entries now. Any kegler with less than a 185 average is eligible and it is eight games across 16 alleys. If you intend to roll in this tourney turn your name in to Dale or leave it at the Recreation for him, so the squad can be formed as soon as possible and a night reserved in the tourney . . . The ragtime doubles at the Recreation is proving popular after a week of bowling, and some pretty good scores have been turned in so far, but as the four pair of alleys are available for doubles teams for a full month before the lucky couple drags down the kitty, it will take a pretty high score to stand up. At present the high is 1304.

Hunters Have Poor Season This Year

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5—(AP)—Hunters of Canada geese near the Horseshoe Lake refuge at Cairo last year had only one quarter of their 1949 luck, a state game official said Friday.

Sam Carney Jr., Conservation Department chief inspector, said 3,300 geese were killed in 1950 as compared to 12,000 in 1949.

Carney said the smaller kill was due to a smaller goose population at the lake and to a greater ratio of older, wiser birds in the flock.

The estimated flock last year was 75,000 as compared to a 1949 estimate of 125,000.

Yankees Voted Team of Year; Oklahoma Second, CCNY 3rd

New York, Jan. 5—(AP)—The New York Yankees baseball club was voted "Team of the Year" for 1950 in the annual year-end poll of sports writers and sportscasters by the Associated Press.

Casey Stengel's Yanks, four straight winners over the Philadelphia Phils in the World Series, had close competition for the honor. Oklahoma's football team, upset in the Sugar Bowl after 31 straight victories, was a close second. City College's basketball "grand slam" champs were very much in the running.

Three Teams in Running

With 215 voting, 70 picked the Yanks as the standout team in any sport, amateur or professional. Oklahoma drew 56 firsts and City 43 ballots. It was strictly a three-team race, with the Phillies a distant fourth. Points figured on a 3-2-1 basis gave the Yanks 361, Oklahoma 319 and City 251.

Then came the Minneapolis Lakers, National Basketball Association pro champs, in fifth place. The Cleveland Browns, who followed their All-American conference triumphs with a National Football League title, were sixth.

The Detroit Red Wings, who beat off the New York Rangers in hockey's Stanley Cup finals, were seventh. Princeton's powerful unbeaten football club was next, followed by the tricky Harlem Globetrotters basketball team.

Honor a Jinx

Tennessee, the Cotton Bowl winner over Texas, was tenth on the list of 1950 standouts.

Last year's winner, Notre Dame, already has been voted the most disappointing team of 1950. It seems to be a jinx. The 1948 champs, Cleveland Indians, were the 1949 flops.

Despite Stengel's success in 1949 with a crippled club, the Yanks were picked to run behind the favored Boston Red Sox in the '50 American league race.

Yanks Earned Rating

Although Joe DiMaggio slumped in mid-season and was benched and Tommy Henrich was unable to play regularly, the Yanks came on strong to nip the Detroit Tigers in the stretch. Phil Rizzuto's brilliant shortstop play, plus consistent pitching with the late season addition of Whitey Ford did the job for the Yanks. Their series sweep was almost an anticlimax after the pennant race.

Oklahoma, voted the No. 1 football club in the Associated Press poll, flashed through its regular season unbeaten. It finally met disaster in the Sugar Bowl when Kentucky ruined its 31-game record win streak, 13-7. Princeton was the only other college football team mentioned among the first 10 teams.

Beloit Whips San Jose State 86-57; in Fast Breaking Tilt

Beloit's highly rated Buccaneers used their fast breaking offense very effectively to wallop San Jose State of California, 86-57, Thursday night before a home crowd. The win was the sixth for the Bucs in nine starts.

Ron Bontempts was the big gun for the Bucs as he tallied 33 points. He made 13 charity tosses without a miss and hit on 10 of 17 shots from the court.

Beloit made its first twenty free throws and for the entire evening they had a record of 24 good charity tosses in 28 attempts.

The game started slowly as neither team was able to hit accurately. Billy Kelly dropped in a free throw for the home team after one minute had elapsed, but Dean Giles came back for the invaders with a short shot to put them out in front, 2-1.

Beloit then opened up and ran their lead to 15-8, and continued to hold the margin at the half, 36-28.

With about five minutes gone in the third period the Bucs began to pull away from the invaders and then had little trouble building their one-sided score.

Braves Beat Detroit, 69-65; DePaul Defeats Cincinnati

New York, Jan 5—(AP)—Remember the old gag about never betting against Notre Dame, Joe Louis or the New York Yankees? It's beginning to look as though the Bradley University basketball team has replaced Notre Dame and Louis.

The Peoria (Ill.) Braves ran their season's undefeated skein to 14 games without defeat Thursday night in the process of whipping the University of Detroit, 69-65. Bradley, voted the top team in the nation in this week's Associated Press poll, now has won 46 to 51 games in the last three years.

Braves Trail at Half

This one presented no easy task for Bradley. For one thing, the Detroiters notched a 67-54 triumph over the Braves last year. The home forces started out as though they had full intentions of putting on a repeat performance, grabbing a 37-31 lead at the half. But with four minutes gone in the third period, Bradley took the lead.

Gene Melchiorre, as usual, was the big gun in the Bradley attack with 24 points.

Only one other of the top ten teams in the country, got into action, and that was Long Island University No. 4. The Blackbirds hung a 69-63 defeat on Bowling Green at New York's Madison Square Garden in the second half of a doubleheader. New York University beat North Carolina in the opener, 66-60.

DePaul Posts Upset

Action was light around most of the country, but another of the unbeatens bit the dust, when DePaul, with a desperate end-of-the-line rally, nipped the University of Cincinnati, 53-52.

De Paul did it the hard way. Leading 30-23 at halftime, the Chicagoans fell behind, 40-48, in the second half. They whittled at the deficit until, trailing by one point with seconds to go, Bat Govedarica looped in a two-pointer for the game.

Cincinnati, which played without its 24-point-a-game star, Larry Imburgia, had won six straight.

The University of Missouri entertained Houston, but proved a poor host, hammering out a 66-48 conquest.

Only one of the first ten teams, Kentucky, No. 3, plays Friday. The Wildcats tangle with Auburn at home.

Louis, Robinson At West Benefit

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Boxing, long known as the swaggering tough guy of sports, has proved that it has a heart.

Thursday night it raised $17,880.45 for the family of Sonny Boy West, the popular little Washington fighter who died two weeks ago after a New York bout.

The boy who knocked West out that night, Percy Bassett of Philadelphia, headed the card. He punched out a workmanlike but unspectacular 10-round victory over Ted (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn. Bassett weighed 130½, Davis 130.

But judging from the applause of the capacity crowd, the paid attendance was 7,501 and many more were turned away, the fans came to see Joe Louis, the former heavyweight king, and Sugar Ray Robinson, welterweight champion.

Both paid their way here, and each refereed a preliminary bout.

Louis, as usual, was a complete contrast to the bubbling Robinson. He moped around while Lee Savold, one of the best of heavyweights, went through a three-round exhibition with Charles Patrick Henry of Ireland.

When the bout was finished, Joe held up his own right arm. Force of habit, no doubt.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

DOUBLE WEDDING at the turn of the century, and a double golden wedding anniversary at midcentury was the unique experience of these two couples of North Royalton, O. They are Halbert and Harry Cartwright, brothers, who married Jennie and Ethel Baird, sisters. The picture is a study in wedding costumes of 50 years ago. For the men, stiff wing collars and white ties, black two-button cutaways, and at the vest of each a heavy gold watch chain and fob. For the brides, white frilly gowns, floor-length, stiffly incurved at the waistline, with long sleeves and many ruffles, white high-topped shoes with bows. Brides are demure, as is the custom with brides, and the bridegrooms look slightly frightened, even as bridegrooms today.

Truman's 'State of the Union' Message Monday Will Be Real Test of Leadership

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—The second act in one of the most dramatic and important periods in American history begins next week. The first act was the disaster in Korea and the beginning of mobilization.

On Monday President Truman delivers his "State of the Union" message to congress. Then some time later congress begins its foreign policy debate, either full-dress and formally, or piecemeal.

Every President has the task yearly of handing his state of the union message to congress. It's his program for what he thinks this country should do at home and abroad in the year ahead.

Leadership Test

No President ever had a more important message to deliver than Mr. Truman on Monday. It will be a strong test of his leadership at a time when he and his administration have been accused of failing to provide leadership.

One thing is certain: During his White House stay Mr. Truman has broken no records in getting to a radio to tell the people with his own lips where the country is going and why or where he thinks it ought to go.

During these long gaps between his face to face talks with the nation—some critics call the gaps a vacuum—a strong tide of feeling has poured in and spread, a feeling that this country should withdraw behind the two seas.

U. S. Big Brother?

But Mr. Truman's policy is pitched in the opposite direction. Keeping foreign allies, helping them re-arm, sending American troops overseas to help them, setting up a bulwark against Russia abroad, not at home.

Because that is his policy, Mr. Truman has the job of answering this other viewpoint and trying to win popular opinion to his side. If he hopes to make his policy effective he needs popular opinion on his side.

In the past month the tide against him seems to have gathered force. In that time Mr. Truman has made no attempt to answer it at length or in detail. It seems unlikely he can ignore it in his Monday address.

Hoots Expected

For it is in that address that he must point out the direction in which he thinks the country should travel. Always a President's state of the union message brings some hoots from the other party in congress.

This congress, where the Republicans are the opposition party, is no exception.

Opinion Divided

At this moment opinion in the senate is divided, it seems, on foreign policy. In other days such a division may have not been important, at least as important as now.

For now this country doesn't have the sweet luxury of time to make up its mind or pick up the marbles and try again if a small mistake has been made.

Now, in the deadly struggle with Russia, every mistake counts and each one may be the one that ends in disaster.

A majority of the senate has agreed to the Truman policy up to this point: The Atlantic pact, arms for Europe, money and men for Europe.

But now if the sentiment swings the other way—toward cold-shouldering those allies and limiting defense largely to defense at home—the effect on the rest of the world will be profound. No one doubts that.

The division in viewpoint hasn't been talked out in the senate yet, although two Democrats—Sparkman of Alabama and Douglas of Illinois—have urged a fulldress debate to settle the issue once for all so the country can have some unity and a solid sense of direction.

Madrid Approves British Ambassador

Madrid, Jan. 5—(AP)—Spain's government has approved the appointment of Sir John Balfour as Britain's ambassador to Madrid, an informed source said last night. Balfour now is British ambassador to Argentina.

The trunk of the Australian bottle tree is shaped like a bottle. The wide bottom part of the tree stores as much as 80 gallons of water during the summer.

GI's Pinup Gal, Is Real 'Book Worm'

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Jan. 5—(AP)—The first new pin-up queen of the war would frankly prefer to curl up with a good book than pose for cheesecake on the beach.

Marilyn Monroe is the girl with the body beautiful that is threatening such pin-up stalwarts as Jane Russell and Betty Grable. This week she received word that she was named "Miss Cheesecake" by the GI editors of Stars and Stripes in Germany.

After a hasty appraisal, I could see that Miss Monroe is well qualified for the honor. She is busty, blonde and beautiful wit a creamy complexion and a slinky movement that recalls Jean Harlow. It was therefore unusual to learn that she is more concerned with philosophy books than bathing suits.

"Comes Natural"

"Oh, I don't mind cheesecake," she told me. "I realize it is a necessary thing in the movie business and it comes natural to me. I did a lot of posing for posters and calendars before I got into the movies."

Aside from the physical aspects, Marilyn doesn't fit the usual starlet pattern at all. She doesn't drink or smoke and she doesn't like night clubs. She'd rather read a book.

Right now she is plowing through a life of Albert Schweitzer, the renowned philosopher-missionary. She is also reading all the works of Antoine De Saint Exupery, the French novelist.

The bookish blonde has had no easy time in her climb up the pin-up parade. She was orphaned shortly after her birth in Los Angeles 22 years ago.

Married at 16

"I was married at 16, left school at 17 and divorced at 18," she recalled. "Then I got in the picture business. I signed at 20th Century-Fox and was fired after a year. I went to Columbia and was fired after six months."

Then came a bit in a Marx brothers picture, after which John Huston picked her to play the lawyer's mistress in "Asphalt Jungle." She played the critic's date in "All About Eve" and was signed to another 20th-Fox contract.

She is now playing a sexy secretary in "Will You Love Me in December?" and has been told that the studio plans big things for her.

Increase Pay for Chicago Teachers

Chicago, Jan. 5—(AP)—The 14,000 Chicago school teachers have received a 4½ per cent wage boost.

For the 10,000 grade school teachers who had received $4,300 a year, the increase is $237. The 4,000 high school teachers will get $284 added to their annual salaries of $5,160.

All the other 6,000 board of education employes, except Supt. Herold Hunt, also were granted pay hikes ranging upward from $20 a month.

Board officials said the new pay schedule adds $4,750,000 a year to the school budget and raises it to a new high of 118,057,855.

The Encyclopedia Britannica was published in parts in Edinburgh, Scotland, 1768-1771.

Will U. S. Give Full-Scale Aid to China on Formosa?

By ELTON C. FAY

AP Military Affairs Reporter

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—If American forces pull out of Korea—a possibility now moving toward a probability—the prolonged argument here over full-scale aid to Chinese Nationalists on Formosa may be resolved quickly.

Abandonment of Korea would leave strategists with two choices: To rest the Pacific defense perimeter on Japan or to join actively with Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in establishing an outer bastion of the line close to the shores of Communist-held China.

Policy Is Set

United States policy now, as fixed by President Truman and the State Department, is to give only enough equipment and military advice to enable the Nationalists to maintain an adequate defense against possible attack from the Communist mainland. There are no American troops, planes or ships based in Formosa.

This policy has been challenged in some congressional quarters and has figured prominently in criticism of State Department policy from these capitol hill quarters.

Back of this current policy has been the reasoning that full aid to Chiang might involve the United States in open, direct war with China.

Different, Now

But when masses of Chinese troops swarmed into Korea to intervene and fight American soldiers, new angles of the picture began to evolve.

Now there is speculation that if the Chinese Reds drive UN forces out of South Korea, the case of aggression against the Communists may be so strong that there no longer can be reason for giving only minimum assistance to the Nationalists on Formosa.

That assistance, however, might not mean that American ground forces would engage Chinese Communist armies unless the Reds gambled on an invasion of Formosa.

Instead it could assume a form of tight naval blockade of Communist ports, warships and aircraft bombardment of Communist cities within reach of forces based on Formosa, substantial help in additional air and ground equipment for Chiang's forces and help for the Nationalist guerrillas on the Chinese mainland.
